

year I had the privilege of being asked by Fr. Ken to cover the parish for two weeks in February while he undertook ministry duties elsewhere, in France and Andorra. I was warmly welcomed by the community and stayed in the adjoining presbytery, dating from 1894, the architect for which was one A Messiah! This visit coincided with the annual Nice carnival seemingly tolerated by local residents but for visitors a must.

Holy Trinity is a must to visit if one is in the area. Be assured of a warm welcome by Fr. Ken and Isabel throughout the year and a very warm welcome from the weather in high summer when fans are a prominent feature inside the church although they do little to remove the heat from celebrants in copes and/or chasubles!

Holy Trinity Anglican Church, Nice 1860-62

Holy Trinity Church, north exterior

Wine and Wisdom 2007???

Report from Alan Lee

The Dover Society's annual Wine and Wisdom evening held on Monday, 19th February was once again a resounding success. We must congratulate Clive Taylor and his team Jill and Andrew for ensuring that all ran smoothly. The contest took the form of nine rounds of ten questions with double points for the round when a joker was played, meaning there were 100 possible points available. The fifth round, a selection of Dingbats, were wrestled over by the teams while they enjoyed their refreshments, this year the difficulty of each Dingbat seemed to be set just about right.

Smiths Crisps with a magnificent score of 90 were the winners of the engraved tumblers. Bakers Dozen finished second on 88 with Enigma in third place on 87 points. It was such a close contest that any one of six teams could have won this year.

Better, even than last year, the attendance of sixteen teams of six almost filled St. Mary's Parish Centre. Many thanks must also go to our new social secretary Pat Hooper, her first event, and all her helpers for arranging a most enjoyable evening.