finale included Jingle bells and We Wish You a Merry Christmas.

Interspersed through the programme the Pharos Chamber Choir, directed by Stephen Yarrow, sang songs with a high quality: including The Little Road to Bethlehem by Michael Head, The Coventry Carol and Three Kings from Persian Lands Afar by Peter Cornelius. Within the beautiful church, with darkness outside, these pieces were especially moving.

Everyone joined in a 'Commitment to Fellowship and Service' which emphasised the value of service as Rotary and other clubs, including Inner Wheel Clubs, strive to help others, not only in their local communities, but nationally and internationally. The evening was an excellent example of Rotary clubs working collaboratively to provide an event open to the public as well as for raising money for charity. Those attending were invited, should they choose, to show their appreciation as they left the church by providing a voluntary donation. All money so donated would be given to the Royal National Lifeboat Institution (RNLI). The audience's appreciation of the evening resulted in donations amounting to an impressive £700 being raised for the RNLI. Members of the Dover RNLI crew were present for the event.

Refreshments were kindly provided in the nearby hall after the event, courtesy of the Church Council. Many people stayed to eat, drink and chat before leaving with a feeling of Christmas good cheer and clutching their souvenir programme. Dover's Rotary Club of South Foreland members had every right to feel satisfied with taking on the daunting task of organising the event. Entertainment, public participation, a good sum raised, and a worthy recipient of the donations were the defining elements of this collaborative event. I was very pleased to attend what was a fine example of what Rotary does best!
